Comrades since college, Brad Drendel and Chris Knight vowed to build superior custom homes when Ashton Builders was founded. Brad was born into a legacy of quality building with both his father and grandfather being past vice presidents of sales for Moser Lumber, Inc. A former executive with IBM, Chris brought solid business knowledge and experience to the company. Within three years of purchasing the first lot, Ashton Builders had pre-sold dozens of homes, and through glowing references and astute business practices, we are growing increasingly prominent in the market.

welcomed into the home-building process. The result: extraordinary, tailor-built homes as unique as their owners.

Our dedication to rising to the task of excellence allows us to extend our assurance of complete satisfaction to every client. At Ashton Builders, the loyal associations we form allow us to offer reliable, competitively priced service to each homeowner. From initial planning to the finishing details, every Ashton home is guaranteed to uphold our promise of Superior Homes, Superior Living.

Constantly striving to improve our skills, we consistently surpass expectations in craftsmanship, aestheticism, distinction and client relations. In addition, we employ only the most skilled tradesmen and reputable suppliers, so all components in Ashton homes meet our elevated standards. Features which are considered luxury upgrades in other homes come standard in Ashton Builders homes. Our list of standard features is extensive and impressive. Another Ashton trademark is the extensive trim we include throughout the home. Built-in shelving and cabinetry, custom trim and crown moldings are just part of the highlights that mark Ashton's signature on every home.

Ashton Builders strives to create lasting client relationships founded in satisfaction and trust with each homeowner. Through constant and honest communication, homeowners are
